

There are many summer options in the Los Angeles area that include subleasing apartments from students from UCLA, USC, and other LA area colleges and universities. There are other options such as Craigslist, Facebook Housing Pages, and Airbnb but those options can quickly become expensive.

The best, safest, and most affordable options are sub-leasing housing from college students during the summer. Some universities and colleges directly offer summer housing options, and it does not hurt to contact their residential and student housing office and check if they can offer any further options.

Here are several options that Notre Dame Alumni, students, and graduates have used in the past. As always please be careful and use your best judgement when searching for housing, and make sure postings are not fraudulent.

UCLA Summer Hostel Housing (Westwood/ West LA)

- Rooms available from June 24 - Sept 9, 2018
- Per website: "UCLA invites sun-seeking, stick-around students and eager interns to lodge with us this summer. You'll explore more and stress less in clean, secure and affordable shared rooms, surrounded by a vibrant, camera-ready campus that's near all of Los Angeles' epic experiences."
